

How to submit a proposal for a research design forum?

Proposals for each individual contribution follow a two-part structure.

1. a short abstract with max. 250 words and
2. an extended summary of 600 - 1000 words (with references), which should include the following:
  - 1) a short description of the research idea, including its theoretical grounds,
  - 2) the aim and relevance of the research and possible research questions,
  - 3) methodology (including participants, context, design and materials) and prospective research planning (e.g. instrument development, data collection, writing)
  - 4) discussion questions and prompts, as well as envisioned outcomes emerging from the session,
  - 5) an indication of how the presentation and discussion is designed to “walk the talk”, i.e., How do the research presentation and discussion prompts reflect the core message/issue you wish to deliver/address? How will the participants’ experience of the presentation allow them to better engage with its content?
