

How to submit a paper?

Proposals for a paper presentation follow a two-part structure:

1. A short abstract with max. 250 words and
2. an extended summary of 600-1000 words, including references.

For presentations of empirical studies, the extended summary should include:

1. a short theoretical framework, aims of the study and research questions,
2. methodology (including participants, context, materials and data analyses),
3. results
4. discussion/conclusions (including theoretical and/or methodological implications).

For presentations addressing conceptual or methodological issues, the extended summary may follow a different structure but should include:

1. a clear and well-supported theoretical and/or methodological conceptualisation and
2. an outline of the aims and purposes of the contribution.
